

Peace of forever

It was when I first laid my eyes upon her that I started dreaming of us together. I saw her walking down my street every now and then and with some time I found myself looking for her everyday. At that age I thought there was something wrong with me, like I was going against the world. But who am I to say that love isn't the only thing capable of changing it? Because at the end it truly is.

Soon enough I got to know her. And from that day, I considered myself the luckiest woman in the whole universe. I didn't fully realize it at the time but she was becoming my soulmate. She was kind, driven and had an ability to always make me smile. The long nights we spent on endless conversations, drinking wine. We didn't care, we were happy. Our lives were dedicated to each other, even though the society didn't ever allow us to see it on paper.

And here we are today, after 54 years. A married couple. I quickly glance at her and then we continue into our small but perfect peace of forever.
