It's Christmas, and Harry writes a letter to Santa like every year. However, this year he has a special wish. Harry wishes he could go with his family to his grandma, who is seriously ill.

A week passed, and the letter finally arrived to Santa. Santa was very surprised by the letter, and wondered about how to do it.

Before long, he came up with the idea of bringing them to his grandma in person. On Christmas Day, he drove, picked up Harry's family and brought them to Grandma's.

However, he immediately flew away with Rudolphina, his favorite reindeer. He still had a lot of work to do. Harry couldn't even thank him, so he just looked behind Santa. This year, Harry and his family were the happiest of all.
